REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art discloses a voltage regulator having an armature winding, a field winding and a power supply line having a switch means connected in series to the field winding for on/off control of the field current fed to the winding, a flywheel circuit connected in parallel with the field winding and a failure detecting means.

However, the prior art fails to disclose, in combination with the invention, a failure detector that compares the output voltage with a threshold and detecting a failure in the power supply line connected to an output terminal of the alternator when the output voltage exceeds the threshold and a generation control means for controlling, upon detection of the failure in the power supply line, power generation of the alternator for a predetermined time that is longer than a time constant of the field winding to suppress the power generation which tends to cause a repetition of high voltage generation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
